Learning objectives

At the conclusion of this activity, participants will be able to:

Identify, evaluate and appropriately manage urgent penile issues that are likely to present to the emergency department.	Describe the approach to work-up and initial treatment for pediatric gynecologic cases in the ER.
Explain the national initiatives of antimicrobial stewardships.	Implement evidence-based strategies in clinical practice that contribute to the prevention of youth overdoses.
Demonstrate common pediatric point-of-care ultrasound applications.	Review nurse-patient-family dialogue in times of hardship and loss in the ED with ongoing support from the PCP.
Identify underlying endocrine causes of common presenting symptoms to the emergency room.	Demonstrate effective teamwork and communication with clarified team roles within the ED.
Recognize signs of pediatric intoxications that are associated with significant morbidity or fatality.
