

MOLA LATINO HEALTH SYMPOSIUM 2018

BECOMING AGENTS OF CHANGE

Saturday, October 6th - 2018

Robert H. Lurie Medical Research Center, 303 E. Superior Street
Chicago, IL

Medical Organization for Latino Advancement

Sponsored by Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine Office of Continuing Medical Education and the Medical Organization for Latino Advancement MOLA

GENERAL INFORMATION

MOLA's annual Latino Health Symposium links all of MOLA's programs, provides a forum for showcasing our annual outcomes, and creates an academic forum where Latino health issues and Latino physicians, students, and researchers are the focus.

The event will gather medical experts who can provide an evidence-based discussion of current issues that impact Latino health disparities, public health, health policy, and diversity, inclusion and equity for health professionals and students.

At the conclusion of the event, participants will be able to:

1. Identify how Latino physicians and health professionals can create positive impact to address gaps and barriers in Latino health. (Educational objective)
2. Describe innovative strategies that are being developed in current academic work to improve Latino health and Latino health professional advancement. (Innovation objective)
3. Create connections with fellow health professionals and students as a step in future collaborative work, mentorship opportunities, and career development. (Networking objective)

Target Audience

This continuing medical education program is designed to meet the educational needs of Medical Students, Residents, Researchers, Practicing Physicians, and other Healthcare Professionals with interest in becoming agents of change in Latino Health.
