8th Annual Midwest Hospital Medicine Critical Care Pre-Course Wednesday, October 18, 2017

Program Description:

Seventy-five percent of hospitalists now care for patients in the Intensive Care Unit, indicating an increased need for competency-based education targeted at the management of critical care. This course intends to focus on various topics that pertain to critical care medicine and provide hospitalists with essential information to manage this patient population. Our course will incorporate a mechanical ventilator workshop, which includes a real time demonstration of modes and waveforms using an artificial lung and simulated patient. In addition, our speakers will provide updates on some of the most pertinent areas of critical illness frequently faced by hospitalists.

Learning Objectives:

At the conclusion of this activity, participants will be able to:

1. Describe an evidence-based approach to the diagnosis and management of patients with severe sepsis and septic shock.
2. Formulate a strategy to minimize risk and improve patient safety in the ICU.
3. Recite the approach to patients with acute hypoxemic and acute hypercapnic respiratory failure.
4. Demonstrate the ability to set, adjust and troubleshoot the mechanical ventilator.

Target Audience:

This CME program is designed to meet the educational needs of Hospital Medicine Physicians, Physician Assistants, Nurse Practitioners, and Residents caring for patients in the ICU.

Conference Location:

The program will be held at the 3rd floor Conference Center located in the Feinberg Pavilion of Northwestern Memorial Hospital, 251 E. Huron Street, Chicago, Illinois. Parking is available at the Huron/ St. Clair parking garage, 222 East Huron Street. Please contact the hospital at 312-926-2000 for directions and parking information or visit: <http://www.nm.org/>

Credit Designation Statement:

The Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 6.25 *AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)*TM. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
