

Northwestern Medicine Digestive Health Presents

Improving the Quality of Digestive Health Care at Northwestern

Saturday, April 15th, 2023, from 9:00AM – 3:30 PM (CST)
Northwestern Medicine Prentice Women's Hospital
Conference Room L
250 E. Chicago Ave, Chicago, IL 60611

This day long CME conference targets NM-affiliated (employed and private) GI, Hepatology, and GI Surgery physicians and APPs to review the best practice management in gastrointestinal bleeding, esophageal motility, inflammatory bowel disease, management of fatty liver disease, and pancreatitis as well as provide attendees the opportunity to receive hands-on training on endoscopic tools. For more information click here.

Register Here

Learning Objectives

1. Utilize recent evidence to improve the inpatient care of patients with acute pancreatitis
2. Use novel endoscopic devices to manage upper gastrointestinal bleeding
3. Identify patients with fatty liver disease who are at risk for progression to cirrhosis
4. Implement the current classification system for patients with esophageal motility disorders

Accreditation Statement

The Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation Statement

The Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine designates this educational activity for a maximum of 5.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

\*Following the conference, a reception will be held at Woodwinds located in Lavin (259 E. Erie) on the 18th floor until 5:30pm*

For questions, please contact Blair.Parker@nm.org